DETAILED ACTION

Faxing of Responses to Office Actions

In order to reduce pendency and avoid potential delays, TC 3700 is encouraging FAXing of responses to Office Actions directly into the Group at (703)872-9302 (Official) and (703)872-9303 (for After Finals). This practice may be used for filing papers which require a fee by applicants who authorize charges to a PTO deposit account. Please identify the examiner and art unit at the top of your cover sheet. Papers submitted via FAX into TC 3700 will be promptly forwarded to the examiner.

1. Claims 1-7, and 9 have been amended for further examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3722

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3-6 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dawson (4,373,558).

Dawson discloses in Fig. 1, a process for binding brochures comprising: inserting the binding element (52, after formed as shown in Fig. 1) into a plurality of superposed sheet like material (not shown, but stated in Col. 5, lines 40-50); and forming the looped binding elements in a row that extends across a width of a brochure (Col. 4, lines 11-23) immediately before inserting step (stated in Col. 5, lines 41-44, wherein the inserting step starts “subsequently” after the forming process); wherein the single element corresponds to a width of the brochure (Col. 5, lines 45-46); forming a plurality of crimps in the looped binding element (with each loop with a single bending die (wherein roll (63) is the single bending die).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3722

3. Claim 2 is finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dawson in view of November.

Dawson discloses in Fig. 1, a process for producing brochures comprising all the elements as claimed in Claim 1 and as set forth above.

However, Dawson does not disclose wherein the binding element is tailored and complemented to the perforations.

November discloses in Fig. 4-6, a process wherein the crimp and loop binding element is tailored and complemented to the perforations (2) along an edge of superposed sheets (3 and 4).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Dawson et al's brochure producing process to include a process for tailoring binding elements to fit inside perforations of sheets as taught by November for the purpose of forming a bound notebook.

Art Unit: 3722

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 7, 8 and 9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
5. Claims 10-20 are allowed.
6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: No prior art of record discloses or fairly teaches a process for producing brochures comprising determining a thickness of a brochure to be produced and storing the thickness in an electronic device; producing a binding element corresponding to the thickness; feeding the wire from a spool; bending wire into a flat, multiple loop binding element; cutting binding element and conveying it to an insertion device; supplying sheet like material to the insertion device, wherein the material has perforations; inserting the binding element into the perforations; bending the binding element into a ring-like binding; and including all of the other limitations in the independent claims.

Art Unit: 3722

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed on January 12, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In regards to applicant's argument that the prior art does not disclose wherein the binding element is formed immediately before being inserted into perforations in order to eliminate pre-formed binding elements supplies, the examiner submits that Dawson discloses a process wherein a binding element is formed immediately before it is inserted in a brochures perforations.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR

Art Unit: 3722

1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

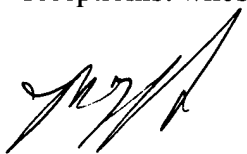

Prior Art References

The prior art references listed in the attached PTO-892, but not used in a rejection of the claims, are cited for (their/its) structure. Calvert et al, Whitney, Scholz, Witte, and Witte ('794) disclose similar processes of producing brochures.
